Airline track rounded Black

Product information

The Airline Track Rounded Black is a lightweight and economical securing track designed as an alternative to heavy and medium-duty systems. It is ideal for mock-ups, assembly stations and light transport applications where a reliable yet cost-effective solution is required.

Made from commercial aluminium alloys and finished with a durable black coating, the track offers excellent corrosion resistance, low weight and a professional appearance. Its rounded profile ensures smooth handling and easy installation.

The Airline Track Rounded Black is compatible with most fittings that meet the AS33601 or ISO 7166 standards, making it a versatile choice for designers, technicians and transport operators seeking dependable mounting options for lightweight structures.
